AN AWAKENED CONSCIENCE

The conscience of the people has been aroused at last to an active expression of disgust at the immoral taint of the country, both in politics and business. It has certainly had enough to awake it in the last few years in the frequent uncoverings of corruption in public life and the low estimate in which honest business methods are held by the managers of some of the big corporations and other business institutions of the country in the frenzied race for wealth and power. It made itself felt in the elections last Tuesday—especially in New York, Philadelphia and Ohio—where the moral sentiment of the people threw off the binding chains of party and won decisive victories or so crippled the corrupt political machines and bosses as to give them a hint of their power.

The great common heart of the people stands for honesty in public and business life, but it is slow to act and the provocation must be great before it breaks away from the ruts and beaten paths along which it plods in the everyday ways of life. The ties of party and party prejudices are strong, and men are slow to believe that their party can go wrong. Business and social relations being trust, and we are loath to believe that the genial, hearty business man, whose cordial words bespeak frankness and whose handshake is warm and magnetic, would take advantage of us in a trade or misuse the confidence reposed in his keeping. We are not after all, quick to judge and to revise former estimates of men whom we have always regarded as upright and honorable.

Recent revelations made of some of our most prominent public and business men, who have been admitted and envied for their genius and success, has brought about a revision of feeling against them and their methods, and this feeling spread last Tuesday. Whether it is epidemic, only the flaring up of a too sleepy conscience that will lapse back into its wonted condition of repose, and leave matters public to the political boss and machine, and matters of business to the Napoleons of frenzied finance; or whether, once awakened it is determined to make for better things and honest conditions, the future must answer.

PRIMARY, OF COURSE.

Some influential Democratic politicians of the State, who have been closely allied with machine and corporation methods, are sending out letters to county and congressional committeemen, asking of them an expression as to how they stand on the primary system of nominating candidates. We don't know what opinions the county committeemen of this county or the congressional committeemen of this district may individually entertain, but they were elected as such by primaries and in that respect are pledged to the primary system, as are the Democratic organizations of other counties and districts, even to the election of delegates to State conventions by primary. The idea is to get closer to the people, and as far as possible to take out of the hands of political bosses and corporation agents the manipulation of the ticket.

The people of this congressional district are so satisfied with the new view with suspicion any other than the plan of nominating by primary. The battle between the people and the corporation representative and its money is on, and the Times will stand for neither men nor measures that threaten the people and their best interests. In this district there will probably be several candidates for the Democratic nomination for Congressman, and under the primary plan the Democratic voters will say who shall be their candidate, while under the convention plan the cunning political bosses, who nine times out of nine are the secret agents of some big corporation, will manipulate matters in a large measure. How? They are past grand masters in the business, and their methods are as varied as they are cunning and corrupt.

St. Francois county may have a candidate for Congressman in the person of Hon. M. R. Smith, provided the primary plan of nominating the candidate is adhered to, but in a conversation with him the other day, he said positively that he would not be a candidate should the committee declare for a convention; that he would not subject himself to the plots and money of the wily corporation boss. Other good men feel the same way; they are willing to trust the people and abide by their decision, but from "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain" peculiar to the convention, they ask to be excused.

Gov. Folk's Thanksgiving Proclamation

Jefferson City, Nov. 6.—Governor Folk to-day issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation: "It is well to pause occasionally from the duties of life and acknowledge our dependence upon a Higher Power. In things material and in things moral Missourians have prospered greatly during the past year, and it is appropriate that a day be set apart for praise and prayer to the Ruler of the universe for his blessings so abundantly bestowed.

Therefore, the President of the United States having designated Thursday, November 30, 1905, that day is hereby appointed as a day of thanksgiving in Missouri, and the people are requested to abstain from their usual avocations and assemble in their accustomed places of worship, or around their own hearthstones, and return grateful hearts thanks to Him whose hand has been guiding our destinies and will lead us on.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the State of Missouri.

Done at the city of Jefferson, this sixth day of November, A. D. 1905.

By the Governor:
JOSEPH W. FOLK,
JOHN E. SWANOVER,
Secretary of State.

LEGISLATURE IS DEMOCRATIC

Rotten Republican Machine of Philadelphia Defeated and Democratic State Treasurer Elected.

JEROME RE-ELECTED IN NEW YORK

Tammany Re-elects Mayor McClellan by Bare Plurality—Hearst will Contest His Election

NEWS FROM OTHER STATES

There are many surprises in last Tuesday's election, the greatest probably being in Ohio, where the Democrats overcame a Republican majority of 250,000 last year, electing Patton, their candidate for Governor, by a plurality in the neighborhood of 40,000, and electing a Democratic Legislature. The whole Democratic State ticket is probably elected.

In New York City there were three candidates in the field for Mayor, McClellan, present incumbent, candidate of the Tammany Democracy; Wm. R. Hearst, Democratic and Municipal Ownership candidate, and Evans, Republican candidate. Tammany turned down Wm. T. Jerome, the reform District Attorney, in making its nominations, and he ran as an independent candidate for re-election. He was elected over the Tammany candidate by a majority of 8,000 or 10,000. It was a victory against bossism for reform. The vote for Mayor was: McClellan 228,651; Hearst 225,166; and Evans 137,049. Hearst claims fraud and will contest the election. District Attorney Jerome will assist him in the contest.

In Philadelphia the corrupt Republican machine and bossism was smashed, the reform ticket under the leadership of Mayor Weaver sweeping the city by about 60,000. It was a fight to a finish against the Republican organization and bossism, that has dominated the city for 30 years or more. The indications are also that the Democrats have elected their candidate for State Treasurer, the only State office voted for. This means a slump of over a half million votes.

Massachusetts went Republican by about 35,000.

In Kentucky and Virginia the entire Democratic tickets were elected, the Legislatures of both States being safely Democratic.

Rhode Island re-elected its Republican Governor, Garvin, by a slightly increased majority.

Nebraska elected two Republican Judges of the Supreme Court by a majority of about 9,000.

In San Francisco the entire Union Labor ticket was elected by majorities ranging from 10,000 to 15,000.

In Maryland constitutional suffrage amendment defeated and Atkinson, Democrat, elected State Comptroller by 15,000.

"Over Vortex of Eternity"

Former Governor Hogg of Texas, who has been down to border of the valley of death, but is now slowly recovering, delivered a short address by graphophone to a big gathering of Democrats at a banquet given at Dallas last Monday night. The address was a great surprise and created a deep impression. It is as follows:

"Mr. Toastmaster and Gentlemen: In a recent nocturnal voyage on the watery waves of despair I drifted over the vortex of eternity, but was wafted back by the breath of fate. In this sensational journey I forgot neither my God nor my State. To Him I stood ready and willing to render a final account with no fear of my place in the great beyond. As to Texas I felt there was yet much political work to be done, in which every patriotic citizen should take part.

"Before leaving here I should like to see: Rotation in office permanently established, nepotism forbidden, equality of taxation a fact, organized lobbying at Austin suppressed, the free pass system honestly and effectively abolished, oil-pipe lines placed under the commission's control, insolvent corporations put out of business, all bonds and stocks of every class of transportation line limited by law, corporate control of Texas made impossible and public records disclose every official act and be open to all, to the end that every one shall know that in Texas public office is the center of public conscience, and that no graft, no crime, no public wrong shall ever stain or corrupt our State."
